Dedication

Mrs. Carne

To the woman who always has room in her heart for one more, we would like to dedicate this yearbook. Mrs. Carne, this is a small thank you for being a caring ear and a guiding hand for so many of us. You know how to help us feel good about ourselves and believe that we CAN do it. Without you some of us might not have made it to graduation.

We also thank you for your great generosity over the years. Whenever there has been any kind of fundraiser, you have dug deep into your pocketbook to help us out. You have probably paid for at least one whole Prom yourself! We will miss your kind face in the halls of the school and at after school events, to which you so willingly gave your time. Thanks, Mrs Carne.

To the members of the class of 2002,

Despite the threats of additional terrorism and the disturbing times in which we live, it is my sincere hope that you can look upon your years at Essex Aggie and remember them for the good things in life. I hope that you remember the Aggie for a complete vocational education and an exciting career path. I hope you remember the many friendships you made, teachers who impacted your life, and the many fun and educational experiences you have had. Your high school years are a time for growing, maturing, and learning to make responsible decisions. Accept responsibility, grow wiser each year, and remember fondly as you look through this book.

Helen Hegarty

To the class of 2002,

For the past four years, it has been an intereting experience for me watching you grow and mature. I hope you will continue to grow and mature, both physically and educationally. Learning is a lifelong experience. I learned a lot from you over these years. I hope you did as well and you keep an open mind to learning as you leave us. You will be remembered, I promise.
